

SAFER SCHOOL GROUNDS URGED AFTER INQUEST

An Adams county coroner's jury Wednesday evening recommended that the school boards of Adams county place fences about school playgrounds to prevent other children from dying under the wheels of passing motor vehicles.

The jury found that Glenn Hoffheins, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Hoffheins, New Oxford R. D., came to his death on May 12 at 12:15 p. m. "of a fractured skull and internal injuries caused when he was struck by a truck driven by Frank Fleshman, New Oxford R. D." and then went on to state that "The accident was caused by a combination of circumstances, some correctible."

"School boards should provide fences for school playgrounds where located immediately adjacent to roads. New Oxford borough should remove a sign setting 25 miles per hour as the speed limit, which is too great a speed for a school zone. School boards should provide new parking places for visiting teachers where the only present facilities for parking will block the view of passing motorists," the jury concluded.

Inquest At School

The jury reached its conclusions after meeting at the scene of the accident. They met in Clear View school, Oxford township, which is located immediately north of the New Oxford borough line. There they heard testimony including that of Frank Fleshman, driver of the truck which hit the youngster, and looked over the scene afterward under the direction of Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist, District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., and State Policeman Robert E. Deitrich.

Thirty-two students in grades one, two and three attend the Clearview school, the teacher, Miss Kathryn W. Donohue. New Oxford R. I. told the jury. During the noon hour they play in a small plot of land immediately adjoining the school house. The land for the playground slopes to the road and there is nothing to prevent the children from running out into the road, the jury found.

Mrs. Paul Stock, who lives next door to the school, said that occasionally she had seen youngsters run out into the road, when in the excitement of play they forgot the instructions of their teacher to remain away from the road.

About 15 yards south of the school house the jurors saw a sign setting the speed limit at 25 miles an hour. Officer Deitrich said the sign had been erected by New Oxford borough and thus could not be removed by the state.

Stopped in 60 Feet
Betty Jane Greiman, York, music teacher for the school, said she had had her car parked off the west side of the road immediately south of the school at the time the accident occurred in a manner that would prevent a motorist driving south from having a clear view of the playground where the children played.

In his testimony Officer Deitrich said he had arrived at the school May 12 to find the Hoffheins child lying on a lawn about 80 feet from the school house. He said that Frank Fleshman told him he was the driver of the truck that had struck the boy. Fleshman was traveling south on the road and the first he noticed the youngster was when the child ran out from behind the parked car directly into the path of Fleshman's machine. Fleshman told him, Deitrich said, that he was going about 20 to 25

BOY SCOUTS TO COLLECT SCRAP

Members of Boy Scout Troop 88 of Orrtanna are planning a salvage collection this week-end in an attempt to raise money to secure equipment for camping this summer.

The scouts will collect in the Mt. Carmel section Friday afternoon, starting about 3 o'clock, Arthur Roth of the troop committee said today. The scouts are asking residents of the area to place scrap paper in bundles outside their homes.

Saturday morning, starting between 8 and 9 o'clock, the scouts and their leaders will cover the Fairfield, Cashtown, Orrtanna area. Mr. Roth, with four scouts, plans to start in a truck from Fairfield, while at the same time Lloyd Kuhn, and four scouts, will start in a truck through Cashtown. The two vehicles will meet in Orrtanna for the completion of the drive.

REVIVAL SERVICES

The Rev. Harvey E. Shank, Chambersburg, will conduct a series of revival services at the Mummasburg Mennonite church beginning Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock and continuing each evening throughout the week. The public is invited to attend.

SEEK COST OF CELL BLOCK AT COUNTY PRISON

Whether a new cell block will be built at the present county jail site will depend largely upon the cost, the county commissioners decided, after visiting the jail with J. Alfred Hammie, York architect, Wednesday.

The commissioners recently rejected bids for a new jail on the county home property, Biglerville road. This action was followed, however, by "ultimatums" from two state departments, requiring the commissioners to make repairs within 90 days or close the jail.

To Submit Plans

Two of the three commissioners united in suggesting that the cell block planned for the new jail be constructed at the old jail. This would mean, according to Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk in the commissioners' office, that practically all of the old jail except the sheriff's residence in front, would have to be torn down and replaced with a new section.

Whether this is done will depend upon the cost. If the latter is too high, or comes anywhere near the cost of an entire new jail, the plan probably will not be carried out. Architect Hammie will prepare an estimate and a rough draft of plans, and have them ready for consideration at the next meeting of the commissioners next Wednesday.

Bids for painting 11 covered bridges in Adams county will also be opened at this meeting. Opening of the bids is scheduled for 11 a. m.

VFW AUXILIARY PLAN LUNCHEON

A covered dish luncheon will be held by the Ladies Auxiliary of Gettysburg Post No. 15, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars on June 18, to celebrate the second anniversary of the founding of the auxiliary, members decided at their regular meeting on Wednesday evening at the post home on Carlisle street.

Husbands will be invited to the affair to which members will bring their own silver. A bingo party will be held June 3, with Mrs. Lottie Ridinger in charge. The public is invited.

Two new members were admitted Mrs. Daisy Kennell and Sarah Thomas.

Other business at the meeting included a report that those wishing tickets for the banquet to be held at the Penn-Harris are to make reservations at once through their local post. The Auxiliary decided to subscribe to the "Ladies National Auxiliary" at the suggestion of Department President Evelyn Woods. Reports disclosed 26 members attended the 21st district meeting held in Waynesboro Sunday and it was reported that the auxiliary members were invited to attend the Memorial services at Hanover May 22. Twenty-four members attended the meeting.

Charge Driver As Result Of Accident

Stanley C. Bream, Aspers, will be charged before Justice of the Peace William E. Stough, Aspers, with making an improper pass as a result of an accident at 8:30 o'clock this morning, state police said today.

According to Cpl. L. D. Jenkins of the state police, who investigated, Bream attempted to pass another car 2½ miles north of Biglerville, the Idaville road at the curve near the home of Frederic E. Gries. As Bream attempted to pass the car he drove head on into a car operated by Herman M. Hersh, 48, Clifton, N. J., police said. Damage to the cars totalled $275. No one was injured.

MENALLEN TWP. VOTES TO JOIN SCHOOL MERGER

The Menallen township school district will enter the jointure being planned for the upper end of the county.

That decision was reached, President Clark L. Fetter said today, at a special meeting of the board at the Locust Grove school Wednesday evening following a public meeting at which the patrons of that section of the township joined with patrons from other parts of the district in voting in favor of such a jointure.

Robert C. Lott and Harold Taylor were appointed to represent the board at a meeting of the committee to draft a contract for the jointure.

At the same time the two delegates were empowered to call upon any other member of the board as an alternate in event of illness or other emergency.

To Meet Friday

A resolution in which the school board voted to enter the jointure was placed on the minutes at the special meeting to satisfy legal requirements for joining with the other districts.

As a result of the Menallen township vote at least five districts will be represented Friday evening at 8 o'clock when the committee from each board interested in jointure is scheduled to meet at Biglerville high school to start work on the contract. The other districts so far scheduled to meet Friday are Aarndtsville, Biglerville, Butler township and Tyrone township.

Founded in 1934

Founded in 1934 with the late John S. Teeter as one of the organizers, the company now has 50 full time employees and engages in road building, general excavation work, manufacturing of crushed stone and handling of ground for fills and other needs.

It has among its equipment three power shovels, of 3/4 cubic yard capacity with crane and back hoe attachments, five bulldozers, three of 80 horsepower, two of 40 horsepower; a fleet of 16 trucks ranging from 1½-ton to 15-ton capacity, three ten-ton road rollers and two heavy power graders, a tractor with a front end shovels to load stone and excavate material and for snow removal, and three air compressors and drills.

In addition is the crushing plant which consists of a 25 by 40 primary crusher powered with a 175 horsepower diesel engine; a 40 by 24 secondary roll crusher powered with a 200 horsepower diesel engine and a bin and sizing unit and conveyor powered by an electric motor.

To this machinery is being added this week another 10 by 36 secondary crusher which permits finer grinding, increased capacity and a greater variety of stone sizes.

Among those ordained Wednesday night at the closing session of the denomination's three-day conference were:

The Rev. Samuel Matteson Clarke, Gettysburg, R. D., named pastor of Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, Union, N. J.

Robert Merritt Ireland, Philadelphia, named assistant pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church of the Incarnation, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Thomas Cave Lott, Aiden, Pa., named as assistant pastor of St. John church, Overbrook.

The Rev. Herman Gustave Steumpfle, Jr., Hughesville, named as pastor of the Attoway pastoral charge, Virginia.

Curtis William Allison, Gettysburg, named as assistant pastor, First Lutheran church, Warren.

The Rev. Howard Walter Bock, Philadelphia, named as pastor of the Garrett pastoral charge.

The Rev. Robert Harley Fischer of Gettysburg, was among those recommended for re-licensure, and Ross Forcey, also of Gettysburg, and James Miller Singer, Manheim, were approved for licensure upon graduation from seminary.

WILL ADDRESS LODGE FRIDAY

Dr. J. M. Myers, Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, will be the speaker for the 18th annual banquet of the Mary Gettys Rebekah lodge Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock, in the Mt. Joy Lutheran church.

The program will open with the singing of "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," followed by prayer by the Rev. Charles E. Held, pastor of the Mt. Joy church.

The program will include group singing, a piano duet by Mrs. Howard Hartzell and Mrs. Ross Forcey; vocal solo by Mrs. Gilbert; greetings from Mrs. Arline Krumrine; response; Mrs. Florence Grinder; vocal trio, "Lo, He Comes," by Miss Viola Sachs, Miss Alice M. Snyder and Mrs. Ruth Naugle; vocal solo, the Rev. Ross Forcey; address by Dr. Myers; vocal solo, Clifford Snyder, presentation of jewels, and benediction by the Rev. Held.

First Souvenir Dealer

Jewelry was the main business at first. Later he became the first local merchant to sell souvenirs, a trade that has since become one of the town's leading businesses. The first souvenirs were spoons, and Mr. Myers confesses he had no idea at that time how varied would become the souvenirs that are sold today.

Still trading with some firms that he began to do business with "25 or 30 years ago," he recalled that most of the big firms that were in business when he started are now "dead as a doornail."

Not only is he proud of his store, but he is particularly proud of the men to whom he taught the trade over the past 70 years. While only about eight are still living, all went on to become very proficient in their trade.

Next Wednesday he will celebrate his 89th birthday. He said today that he had a physical check-up a week

Elks Ladies' Night Attracts Nearly 600

Approximately 600 members and their lady friends attended the Ladies' night held by the Gettysburg Lodge of Elks Wednesday evening at the Elks home on York street.

Following a fried chicken dinner a "Country Store Night" was held as entertainment.

ENLARGE STONE CRUSHING PLANT AT QUARRY HERE

John S. Teeter and Sons today announced that a new stone crushing plant, capable of handling up to 2,000 tons per day, has been placed in operation at the company's quarry along the Littlestown road.

The machinery for the crusher filled eight cars on shipment here.

The new machine is part of the general development of the plant during the past several months as the company completes plans for remodeling that were held up in wartime by shortages. The office at the plant has been entirely remodeled and made into four divisions, book-keeping department, sales department, executive offices and a repair shop for maintenance of machinery.

Founded in 1934

Founded in 1934 with the late John S. Teeter as one of the organizers, the company now has 50 full time employees and engages in road building, general excavation work, manufacturing of crushed stone and handling of ground for fills and other needs.

Also elected as vice presidents were:

Mrs. Fred Troxell, Missionary Guild of St. James church; Mrs. Earl J. Bowman, Women's Missionary society of St. James; Mrs. C. O. Schweizer, Methodist church; Mrs. Dwight F. Putman, Missionary society of Christ Lutheran church; Mrs. A. Brown, Guild of the Presbyterian church; Miss Elizabeth Bushman, Church of the Brethren; Mrs. Louise Hoffman, Trinity Reformed church; Mrs. Louise Stanton, A. M. E. Zion church and Mrs. Brown, Young Women's Christian Association.

40 At Luncheon

Forty women attended the luncheon. Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh, retiring president, presided. Mrs. Verna Myers, executive director of the Adams County Board of Public Assistance, was the speaker. She said that the Public Assistance program was established in 1938 "but the problems of security versus insecurity are as old as time itself, and the problems are the right and duty of a community to protect its members. From the early 18th century until the last quarter of the 19th, the principle of local responsibility for the care of public charges went almost unchallenged. The criminal, the insane, the blind, children, the crippled, the aged, all were cared for by the same authority, the county director of the poor. In 1913 the legislature passed the Mother's Assistance Act.

IS FOUND GUILTY IN SUGAR THEFT

Luther F. Spangler, Gettysburg R. 1, has been found guilty by a Carroll county, Maryland, jury, at Westminster, of conspiracy in the receiving of over one ton of stolen sugar.

He was fined $500 and costs and placed in the custody of the sheriff until the order was complied with.

The decision was reached by the jury after Francis A. Zile, Cockeysville, brother-in-law of Spangler, pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and larceny of the more than 2,000 pounds of sugar. Spangler had pleaded innocent to the charge against him.

According to reports from Westminster, Zile testified that he delivered sugar twice to Spangler's home and one time on the road near his home at the price of $15 per hundred pounds. He said Spangler was using some of the sugar to feed his bees, some for his own use and did not mention how the remainder was used. Zile pleaded guilty to stealing some sugar from the B. F. Shriver company warehouse at Manchester and other sugar at H. E. Koontz company where 900 pounds of sugar was taken.

Zile was sentenced to three years in the Maryland house of correction.

CHILDREN TAKE TRIP ON HUDSON

Fifty-two students in the seventh and eighth grades at St. Francis Xavier school here, and similar numbers from Littlestown, New Oxford and McSherrystown took part Wednesday in an all-day trip to New York city and West Point arranged for the parochial school children of the Harrisburg diocese.

Accompanying the Gettysburg children were Mrs. William Bushman, Mrs. Paul Littleton, Mrs. Joseph E. Smith, Mrs. Clement Redding, Miss Gladys Klunk and Mrs. William Klunk. The group moved from Gettysburg to Hanover early Wednesday morning. At Hanover they met similar contingents from Littlestown and New Oxford parochial schools, the Annunciation school of McSherrystown and the freshmen at Delone Catholic high, McSherrystown, and from Hanover and other nearby communities. Traveling by train they were met at Columbia by the school children from Harrisburg and Lancaster.

2,600 On Tour

A total of 2,600 children throughout the local diocese took part in the trip with the groups converging at Jersey City, N. J. where they boarded the Alexander Hamilton of the Hudson River Day line. They went by boat through New York harbor and then up the Hudson to West Point. For two hours they toured the United States Military Academy there. Then they returned to Jersey City and from there home by train.

I. C. Bucher Hurt Working At Farm

The Rev. Floyd Carroll, pastor of the Methodist church, will be the principal speaker at the annual GAR memorial service of Corporal Skelly Post No. 9, Sons of Union Veterans, to be held in the post home, East Middle street, Sunday afternoon, May 25, at 2 o'clock, day saving time.

The program will open with the singing of the first and last verses of "America," followed by the invocation by the Rev. Harold March, pastor of the United Brethren church. Two stanzas of "Faith of Our Fathers" and a selection by a high school vocal trio, composed of Reginald Dunkinson, Bruce Westerholt and Donald Bollinger, will follow.

GHS Trackmen Win Final; Unbeaten For Two Years

Hats off to Coaches George Forney and Fred Haehnlen and their Gettysburg high school track team.

By defeating Harrisburg Catholic high in a dual meet at Harrisburg Wednesday afternoon the Maroons completed their second straight season undefeated.

The final score was 65-48.

The Maroons took seven first places in the 13 events. Individual high scorer for the meet was Bob Cunjak of Harrisburg Catholic who accounted for 15 of his team's points through winning the 100, 220 and 440-yard events.

Maroon Winners

Winners for Gettysburg included Fred Rodgers, low hurdles; Donald Sterner, 880; Bob Hottle, shot put; Bill Strickhouser and Bruce Westerdahl, who tied with Jiras of Harrisburg in the high jump; Frank Fissel and John Settle (tie), mile run; Charley Rodgers and Bill Strickhouser (tie), pole vault; (Davey Blocher, Kenny Fair, Don Sterner and Bob Hottle), 880-yard relay.

Wednesday's triumph was the fifth of the season for the locals who won the Shippensburg State Teachers' college invitation meet, the South Penn conference title for the 12th time in 13 starts, and dual meets with Chambersburg, Mercersburg academy and Harrisburg Catholic.

Last season the Maroons also capped five meets.

Praise Team Members

The Maroon coaches were loud in their praise for their protégés following the conclusion of their most impressive campaign. All members of the squad were credited with keeping in the best of condition throughout the campaign and few missed a workout. As one school official said, "The team was up against the best of competition throughout the season and its success was due to the determination of the individual members of the squad to give his best."

The summaries:

100-yard dash—Cunjak, Catholic; Blocher, Gettysburg; G. Freundel, Catholic. Time, 10.6 seconds.

220-yard dash—Cunjak, Catholic; Sariano, Catholic; Blocher, Gettysburg. Time, 24.6 seconds.

440-yard run—Cunjak, Catholic; Rodgers, Gettysburg; Till, Catholic. Time, 55.4 seconds.

Pole vault—Tie for first between C. Rodgers and Strickhouser, of Gettysburg; third, Finley, Catholic. Height, 9 feet, 6 inches.

High jump—Tie for first among Jiras, Catholic; Strickhouser and Westerdahl, of Gettysburg. Height, 5 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

Broad jump—Taljan, Catholic; G. Freundel, Catholic; Westerdahl, Gettysburg. Distance, 19 feet, 10 inches.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, May 22 (P)—Mister outside really will be outside in his final fling at college sports Saturday. Glenn Davis is slated to play his usual outfield position on the Army baseball team against Navy and then make a quick switch to a track suit to do some sprinting, also against Navy. . . . No telling what will happen if the ball game goes to extra innings. . . . Two weeks later Glenn will get his gold bars, a furlough and will report to Fort Riley, Kas., in August for schooling. He said Doc Blanchard both will get a week off for the New York All-Star football game. . . . Abe Greene likely will be named New Jersey Boxing commissioner again when John Hall is shifted to another job. . . . The Green Bay Packers are looking for a seal to decorate their letterhead and uniforms. Any suggestions?

Donald Sterner, star runner of the undefeated Gettysburg high school track team, was elected honorary captain by his team-mates Wednesday afternoon.

Sterner copped the 880-yard run against Harrisburg Catholic Wednesday and placed second in the 440-yard event and was a member of the winning 880-yard relay quartet. His work on the cinders has been one of the leading contributors to the two-year unbeaten record of the Maroons.

Looking forward to next year's track team it is to be noted that only five members of this year's team will be lost via graduation.

Captain Sterner, Fred and Charley Rodgers, Wilmer Sharrar and John McKendrick are the only members of the senior class.

Apostoli Wins On Comeback Trail

Oakland, Calif., May 22 (P)—Fred Apostoli, the former middleweight champion who is well along on a comeback campaign at 33, marked off a tough Earl Turner of Richmond, Calif., as another victim and set his sights today on a return to big time boxing.

The onetime San Francisco ballyhoo scored a 10-round decision over Turner, California's welterweight champion, in a slam-bang fight under the lights of the Oakland ball park last night. Apostoli weighed 157 1/2 to Turner's 151.

Judges Billy Burke and Toby Irwin gave Apostoli the nod, but Referee Jack Downey voted for Turner, who took the last three rounds when all began to tell on Apostoli.

They discovered that Southern California's Roland Sink was born at Bellwood, Neb. Other native sons are Gil Dadds (Fall City) and Bobby Ginn (Madison). . . . As a counterattraction to Cleveland's Lou (The Toe) Groza, the Los Angeles Dons have signed Ben Agajanian, who has no toes on his kicking foot. Jay Hershey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hershey, Cashtown, was elected captain of the Gettysburg high school baseball team at a meeting of the squad Wednesday.

Hershey, who plays shortstop, has been one of the most consistent hitters on the team throughout the season.

The Maroons, with a record of four wins and three defeats, meet St. Francis Prep at Spring Grove in the closing game of the season Friday afternoon.

INDIANS MAY SWITCH FIELDS

Cleveland, May 22 (P)—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians will decide today whether he will transfer tomorrow's scheduled game with the St. Louis Browns to League park from Municipal stadium, which has been transformed into a quagmire by construction work on a midget auto racing track encircling the playing field.

Confronted with a warning from American League President William Harridge that the game would be forfeited to the Browns if the Indians were unable to provide a suitable playing field, Veeck said he would switch the game to the Indians' former home because "we're in the thick of the pennant race now and we can't afford to lose a game on a forfeit that we've got a chance to win."

Tomorrow's game is scheduled as a night affair but the game would be played in the daytime if transferred to League park, which is not equipped for lights. Veeck intimated he might go to court if the game is transferred. He said a crowd of approximately 50,000 was expected for the Tribe's first night game of the season, and that the club would lose money by switching to League park, which seats approximately 28,000.

Veeck has strongly opposed mid-get auto racing in the stadium ever since it was first proposed.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

Scranton held a claim on the Eastern league lead today after handing Elmira a 3-0 defeat last night which broke a first-place streak, Ernest Bevin, says one of the greatest handicaps in international negotiations (specifically the recent Big Four conference in Moscow) is that a chap can't even think out loud without his thoughts being "nurled into headlines in the press."

U. S. Secretary of State Marshall disagrees with this conclusion, and favors full news coverage. One suspects that Mr. Bevin really feels the same but has been irked for the moment by some unwelcome experience and has let the sun go down upon his wrath. Maybe, too, the fiery foreign secretary himself contributes a wee bit to his difficulties by thinking out loud so explosively.

At times he launches his thunderbolts with Jovian abandon.

Anyway, one feels sure that Bevin won't turn back the clock on a freedom of the press to which England has contributed so much during the past generation of progress. International conferences in Britain these days have the latchstring out for newspapermen. And so do government officials, as witness my last visit to London a year ago when all I had to do to secure a private conversation with Prime Minister Attlee was to

Today's Talk

ETERNITY

Eternity, in itself, is hardly conceivable to this mind of ours. Yet science has proof of millions of years that have already passed along—a fact difficult to grasp, when man's life upon this globe, in comparison, seems but a breath.

Yet any one of us may get a good look at Eternity right in our back yard, or along the roadside, or anywhere in the realm of Nature. The song of the thrush proclaims it. So does every tree, flower, and movement in the Outdoor Kingdom, and in the mind and heart of man, as well.

There is an atom of Eternity in every tint that beautifies the flower, or that gives confidence to the little red squirrel, who sits happily upon my knee, feasting upon the peanuts that I give to him, at my Summer retreat. There also, do I see Eternity rehearsed in every wave upon the lake, in every rise and fall of the Sun, and in all the beauty and fragrance that Nature affords so lavishly.

Our archeologists have long dug up evidences of Eternity, and every crust of this old Earth of ours proclaims it! So does the first cry of life, that the child gives forth, and every urge of the human heart toward a higher plane of thought and conduct.

Each one of our lives forms a thread in the fabric of Eternity, though we do not know the exact location, nor the time of its permanent weaving, any more than we can explain the trait of an ancestor a thousand years before we were conceived and born to life. But there it is—Eternity, a never ending existence!

Have Won Respect
Murray said that the steelworkers union, by negotiating the 15-cent-an-hour package pay increase, had "won for itself the respect and admiration of its members and the public."

The agreement, he said, guaranteed continued production in the steel industry and would bolster the nation's attempts to stallize its postwar economy.

Murray said both management and the union realized that fulfillment of the contract is dependent on what he termed successful attitudes.

A lark's song in the meadow upon a sunny day, is far more significant than a meeting of men, representing a group of nations, each intent upon getting something for his nation that other nations have, without adequate return.

LAUGHTER
Set a man to laughing, he,
For the time, is warr free,
Put a smile upon his lips,
From the bonds of care he slips.
Give him laughter, and you take
From him every hurt and ache.

Set a man to laughing, he,
For the time, is burden free.
Loss and failure are forgot;
Little slights remembered not.
Give him laughter, and the gift
Every weight he bears will lift.

For that merry moment brief,
Laughter is a cure for grief.
For the pains that men endure
Laughter is an opiate sure.
Set a man to laughing, he,
For the time, is trouble free.

TWO-YEAR BAN ON STRIKES IS IN STEEL PACT

Atlantic City, N. J., May 22 (AP) — A two-year ban on strikes ordered by United Steelworkers President Philip Murray paved the way today toward what he said would be uninterrupted production in the nation's steel industry and an "opportunity for stabilizing our country's internal economic affairs."

Murray, holding down the dual role of United Steelworkers president and head of the parent CIO, issued the no-strike order last night in a letter approved by the union's 41-man board of directors at their biennial meeting here.

Murray said the no-strike rule was "vital to preserve the integrity" of the recently concluded two-year wage agreement which he described as "one of the most notable achievements in the annals of our nation's collective bargaining history."

Asks Compliance

The letter, directed to the steelworkers' 3,000 locals, said it was "imperative that we understand thoroughly."

"We must meticulously respect provisions of the collective bargaining contract."

"2. That under no circumstances must there be work stoppages during the life of the agreement."

"3. We must resort to the orderly methods of adjudicating our differences by taking recourse to the grievance procedure of the wage agreement up to and including arbitration."

STATUE—This peace monument, erected on a high hill along the Danube by the Russians, was dedicated to those who defended Budapest, Hungary, during World War II.

The agreement, he said, guaranteed continued production in the steel industry and would bolster the nation's attempts to stallize its postwar economy.

Murray said both management and the union realized that fulfillment of the contract is dependent on what he termed successful attitudes.

CLAIMS 'RING'
SMUGGLES REDS
ACROSS BORDER

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, May 22 (AP) — Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) said today a House Un-American activities subcommittee has uncovered evidence that a "ring" is sneaking Communists from Mexico into the United States.

McDowell said the subcommittee also found "Communism deeply in-trenched in Hollywood and the movies."

Gross, York county farmer and mighty proud of it, chatted with the women in his office and then saw them off on a Washington sightseeing tour.

Two bus loads returned to Pennsylvania but the other ladies stayed over to see more of Washington today.

"There is absolutely no question that there is such a ring," he said.

Gave No Details

"The Un-American Activities committee is not concerned with illegal immigration, any more than with the numbers racket or cheating on income taxes. The immigration we are concerned about is that of people who come over our border to do something to our country."

He gave no details as to where the ring operates along the border or how many people it is getting across.

McDowell and Chairman J. Parrott Thomas (R-N.J.) were members of a subcommittee which went to the coast with Investigators Robert E. Stripling and Louis Russell for hearings on Communism in Hollywood.

The grand jury indicted Harry Sachker, John Woodhill, John C. Taggart and Benjamin Saltzman, all of Philadelphia, after hearing 31 of 122 subpoenaed witnesses yesterday accuse the four of soliciting advertising from hundreds of Philadelphia business men and converting an estimated $30,600 to their own use.

Also held for action of the grand jury are John McCaffrey of Philadelphia, Fire Chief L. Ellis Wagner of York, assistant Fire Chief Frank Dean of Lancaster and Charles E. Clark of Wayne, secretary of the State Firemen's association.

District Attorney John H. Maurer said 40 additional witnesses will be held today, 40 tomorrow and the remainder on Monday of next week. He said more than 200 indictments were expected, adding:

"We hope to complete our case this month and bring the defendants to trial next month."

Unions Fighting
Jobless Pay Ban

Pittsburgh, May 22 (AP) — The CIO United Electrical Workers declared today the bill to deny strikers unemployment compensation "would actually help employers to break strikes."

The union made the statement in announcing it appealed to state legislators yesterday to vote against the bill. The House passed the bill and sent it to the Senate.

He was found dying by a member of his family who went to awaken him.

He was to leave for New Orleans today to embark for Montevideo to assume his new duties.

INCOME TAX CUT

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

Washington, May 22 (AP) — Democratic Senators loosed their heaviest artillery today in a drive to block action for three weeks on the proposed $4,000,000,000 income tax cut. Republicans admitted the outcome will be close.

In opening debate on the bill yesterday, Millikin told the Senate he looks for an $8,400,000,000 surplus in the fiscal year which begins July 1. George took issue with that calculation, holding that the limit is slightly over $4,000,000,000.

Avail Other Action

George seeks the three-week postponement so the Senate will have an opportunity to see how much the House Appropriations Committee cuts the remaining bills to finance government agencies next year.

The tax reduction bill approved by the House March 27 called for reductions retroactive to last January 1. The Senate Committee pushed the effective date forward to July 1.

As now written, the bill would grant a 30 per cent reduction in income taxes, over a full year, to persons whose income after exemptions and deductions is $1,000 or less. The cut would be limited to 20 per cent on income up to $79,700; to 15 per cent between $79,700 and $302,400, and to 10 per cent in the top brackets.

Senator Millikin (R-Colo), chairman of the finance committee which amended and approved the house bill, was willing to give the opposition all the time it wants.

No Vote Today

"It's their ball," he told a reporter.

"Let them play with it."

ROUND-TABLE ON TEACHERS' BILL SOUGHT

Harrisburg, May 22 (P)—A round-table conference of House and Senate Education committee members was sought today in an effort to avoid a dispute between the two branches of the legislature on the teacher pay controversy.

Chairman Frederick L. Hornsber (R-Lancaster) of the Senate Education committee, asked about reports that such a meeting will be held Monday, said "Mr. (D. Raymond) Sollenberger (House Education committee chairman) spoke to me about a meeting but I don't know what he wants to discuss."

Hornsber, who is sponsor of the administration measure which would set a $2,000 a year minimum for college-trained teachers and give instructors an immediate $150 a year boost in pay, added that he "supposed" school legislation would come up.

Rep. Sollenberger, who is backing the Pennsylvania State Education association's plan for increasing the state-wide minimum mandated salary from $1,400 a year to $2,400 and give experienced teachers a raise of as much as $500, was unavailable for comment.

Open To Overtures

Hornsber said yesterday he was open to peace overtures but that $48,000,000—the additional sum allocated for education in Gov. James H. Duff's budget over 1945 appropriations—was the limit of increased state aid.

The senator's measure would provide for a $1,800 base pay for teachers with standard certificates, plus an immediate increment of $150; a base of $2,000 for those with college degrees and $2,200 for those with masters' degrees everywhere except in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. The college-trained teachers would also receive an immediate increment.

The Senate measure differed from that approved by the House Education committee—and labeled "thoroughly impractical" by Governor Duff—in that it proposed maximum state subsidies of only $2,200 a teaching unit against $2,600 in the House bill and a minimum subsidy of $700 against $9,000 proposed by Sollenberger and his co-sponsor, Rep. George D. Stuart (R-Allegheny).

Hornsber's committee has up for consideration a measure to establish a state tax equalization board to determine the market value of real property in fixing state subsidies to individual school districts as part of the administration education program.

A third plank in Governor Duff's program for schools—legislation to broaden the tax base of local school districts and other municipalities—was returned to the House Municipal Corporations committee yesterday for further revision.

Rep. Herbert P. Sorg, Republican floor leader, said the measure "is too restrictive as it is now written and we want to revise further the scope of local tax powers." Asked if it would be changed to remove any doubts about local amusement taxes, Sorg said "yes, I think that will be done."

The House also returned to committee a bill to permit boroughs to levy amusement taxes only a day after the measure had reached the floor a second time. The action returning it to committee was initiated by Rep. James E. Lovett (D-Westmoreland).

Chicago, (P)—Fluffy, a year old cat owned by the Phillip Peterson family, knows only one trick—how to get into the Peterson home without disturbing any one.

Fluffy climbs up the brick wall near the front door, opens the mailbox lid with her nose, and plunks herself in—just like a parcel. Then she leaps out of the mail box and down to the floor.

The Peterson children, Beverly, 7, and Bruce, 5, used to stuff Fluffy into the mailbox for their amusement but Fluffy now demonstrates that she can get in that way unaided.

DUFF'S LABOR PROGRAM ROLLS THROUGH HOUSE

Harrisburg, May 22 (P)—Alert to Gov. James H. Duff's request for speedy action on the administration's labor legislation, the GOP senate caucus called a meeting today less than 24 hours after the strike control program rolled through the house.

The house-approved bills, a top Republican leader said, were high on the caucus agenda which also listed measures, not supported by the administration, to establish a "cooling off" period in advance of strikes, restrict the operation of union "hiring halls" and require unions to open membership lists under certain conditions.

Four Hours of Debate

Four hours of debate and time-consuming parliamentary tactics by the Democratic minority were required yesterday before the overwhelming GOP majority in the house passed legislation which would:

Ban strikes by teachers and other public employees (124-61).

Deny jobless benefits to strikers and extend the benefit period for the involuntary unemployed from 20 to 24 weeks (123-60).

Prohibit non-employees from picketing in strikes (127-59).

Continue permanently the wartime experience rating system of determining employer contributions to the unemployment compensation fund with those providing steady jobs receiving lower rates (140-48).

Equality For Women

Require equal pay for women for equal work (202-0).

Another bill to require unions to file financial reports with the secretary of labor and industry but closing them to public view—was adopted 126-59. The proposal, however, is not part of the administration program.

Charges that the teacher strike ban was "not only punitive but vindictive" were flung at the GOP-dominated house, Rep. Eustace H. Banc (D-Fayette) declaring: "If that's your idea of justice, I don't see it."

Penalty For Strikers

The measure would permit reemployment of workers fired for striking but would deprive them of tenure for five years and would bar pay increases for three years as a penalty for stopping work in a labor dispute.

"We cannot strike against ourselves," replied Rep. Herbert P. Sorg (Elk), GOP floor leader, in asserting the government belongs "to all of us, including teachers and other public employees."

Rep. H. G. Andrews (Cambria),

Most Struck Cement Plants To Resume

Allentown, Pa., May 22 (P)—Virtually all of the 34 cement plants in eastern Pennsylvania, New York and Maryland which have been idle since May 1 because of a walkout of 8,000 AFL workers in a dispute over a contract expect to operate normally by Monday.

Twelve companies have signed agreements with the cement, lime and gypsum workers to extend to April, 1948.

In dispute was a clause regulating the starting time for packing-house workers. The union and companies compromised. A wage increase of 15 cents had been agreed upon before the strike began. Present wage scales were not announced.

In Catskill, N. Y., Howard Rowell, agent of union district 8, said the district's locals, claiming 1,600 members, were expected to meet with company officials to consider agreements reached in Pennsylvania as soon as possible. The council approved the agreement last night.

BOY IS CRUSHED

Altoona, Pa., May 22 (P)—Jack Louensiager, 5, was killed last night when he jumped out of a truck in which he was riding and was crushed.

ed under the wheels as the vehicle slid backwards down a hill. The truck, operated by the boy's two uncles, had stalled on the elevation. Dr. Daniel M. Replego, Crawford county coroner, said the boy died of internal injuries.

The first passenger elevator was installed in New York in 1857.

PREDICT RUSSIA WILL LOSE IN BALKAN FIGHT

By JOHN A. PARRIS, JR.

American sources predicted today that Russia would lose her fight to prevent a United Nations border-watch over the troubled Balkans.

These sources said a majority of the U.N. Security Council members were against a Soviet resolution demanding sharp curtailment of powers for an interim commission investigating warfare along Greece's northern borders.

Britain and Russia were on the list of speakers as the council was called to act on the Soviet resolution. Valentine Lawford, substituting for Sir Alexander Cadogan, was scheduled to explain the British position.

Hope For Vote

Delegates expressed the hope that a vote could be reached today on the showdown battle between Russia and the United States over a Slav revolt against maintaining an international vigil over the troubled Balkans.

U.S. Deputy Delegate Herschel V. Johnson charged Tuesday that Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria were attempting to obstruct efforts of the Security Council to settle strife in the Balkans.

The three Slav countries had declared they would not cooperate with the council's interim inquiry commission and would refuse its members access to their countries.

Dangerous Precedent

Johnson contended that the Soviet satellites would establish a "dangerous precedent" if they persisted in "defiance" of the United Nations.

Under the proposed Soviet move the interim investigators would be limited to specific council-drafted assignments. They would be moved from Salonika in the frontier region southward of Athens. Adoption of the resolution also would put a strict limit on the life of the group.

The interim commission was ordered into the border area to stand watch until the regular U.N. Balkan commission could get its report to the council for action. The commission is at present in Geneva drafting its findings.

LEGISLATURE TO RUN INTO JUNE

Harrisburg, May 22 (AP)—Top Republican leaders conceded today the 1947 session of the legislature, still faced with vexing labor, school teacher and gasoline tax issues, will continue into June.

Originally aiming at ending the current session by Memorial Day, majority leaders admitted "that is an impossibility" now in face of the top-drawer legislation still awaiting action.

With the 1945-47 fiscal period ending May 31, Sen. John G. Snowden (R-Lycoming) proposed a $7,000,000 deficiency appropriation in the Senate to continue state employees' salaries after that date and until the governor finally approves the general appropriation bill for the coming biennium.

So far the big money measure that provides funds for the operations of the state government starting June 1 has not cleared the assembly's appropriation committee and there was no indication when floor action will be started.

After the legislature acts, the executive usually requires at least 20 days more to re-examine allocations and make reductions where necessary to keep within budgetary limits.

AUTHORIZE NEW UNITS OF GUARD

Harrisburg, May 22 (AP)—The War Department's National Guard bureau has authorized organization of eight additional units of the Pennsylvania National Guard, Adjutant General Frank A. Weber announced.

The new units were ordered attached to the 10th Corps Artillery, with headquarters at Harrisburg, and commanded by Col. William S. Bailey.

Home stations and authorized top strength of each unit:

Headquarters and headquarters battery, 190th Field Artillery group, Sunbury, 18 officers and 81 enlisted men, to be organized June 1.

200th Field Artillery Battalion (all to be organized June 1)—Headquarters and headquarters battery, Bellefonte, 13 officers, one warrant officer, and 112 enlisted men; medical detachment, Bellefonte, one officer and 11 enlisted men; Battery A, Clearfield, four officers and 105 enlisted men; Battery C, Lewisburg, four officers and 103 enlisted men.

176th Armored Field Artillery Battalion (all to be organized June 1)—Headquarters and headquarters battery, Lewistown, 14 officers and 82 enlisted men; medical detachment, Lewistown, one officer and 9 enlisted men; and Battery C, Waynesboro, four officers and 101 enlisted men.

Sea lions reach a weight of 1,200 to 1,800 pounds.

The use of false teeth dates from the 18th century.

CULTURE AND USE OF GOURDS

Gourds are among the oldest cultivated plants. It may well be that man domesticated gourds for making simple utensils before he thought of cultivating plants for food. Certain it is that specimens found in ancient Egyptian tombs indicate popularity of this member of the cucurbit family of plants at least 40 centuries ago. The "gourd" mentioned in the Book of Jonah in the Old Testament is generally accepted as the Castor Bean and not the true gourd plant.

Gourds are closely related to cucumbers, melons, squashes and pumpkins. Some are native to China, others to India and other tropical and semi-tropical parts of the Old World. As a general rule the plants are subject to the same diseases and insect foes as are cucumbers and squashes. And, too, the same control and prevention measures gardeners employ to protect their cucurbits will serve when similar problems with gourds arrive.

Well rooted sweet potato plants should be set out whenever the soil is warm toward the end of May and all danger of frost is past.

Water lilies are easy to grow. Pools may range from a half of a wooden barrel sunken in the ground to expensive formal stone, concrete or tile structures. Roots are planted in small boxes of special loam. All related questions gladly answered.

If strawberries are mulched with fine straw, hay, leaves or other dry vegetation, the fruits will be kept clean from splashing soil when it rains, soil moisture will be conserved over summer and cultivation labor will be reduced to hand pulling of weeds.

Seed should be planted within the next week or two in order to permit full ripening of gourds on the vine. One of the most common troubles with ornamental gourds is the necessity of harvesting them before they are fully matured. A gourd ready to harvest is well colored, the rind so hard it cannot be easily dented with the thumb nail, and the stem dry and shriveled. Such a gourd will retain its shape and color indefinitely and can be used as a dipper, bird house or merely as an ornament.

Many beginners with gourds make the mistake of ruining their natural colors and texture by coating them with varnish, shellac or lacquer. This detracts from their full beauty. Experienced growers recommend full maturity on the vine and then a careful disinfection in a formaldehyde solution (1 pint of commercial formaldehyde in 6 gallons of water).

After drying thoroughly the gourds are polished with floor wax or any of the furniture waxes and rubbed to a high gloss with a soft brush or cloth.

Types of gourds suitable for the purpose should be grown for making bird houses. One farmer we know furnished martins with 20 to 30 fine gourd houses on one pole, fastening the gourds from the ends of cross-arms extending in four directions.

If copper wire is used and the gourd fastened so it will not turn or swing, martins take a great fancy to the gourd house. Smaller openings and adjusted poles make possible the use of gourds for wrens and other nesting birds.

Gourds may be grown in a utility role as a screen and for the fruits. Of course, vining types must be seeded for this screening purpose, as some of the genera are bushy in type.

The Chinese luffa or sponge gourd is perhaps one of the most interesting. When fully ripened on the plant, this gourd may be soaked in water until the rind is soft, and then the spongy interior taken out and cured for use as a sponge or wash cloth.

If the striped cucumber beetle attacks gourd plants soon after they emerge from the ground, dust the plants and surrounding soil with a 1:15 mixture of calcium arsenate and fine gypsum. Or a rotenone dust may be employed successfully against this pest.

Seed catalogues offer a varied line of ornamental gourds or seed may be purchased from local dealers. Once gourds were grown to help furnish the ancient kitchen; now they rightfully belong among popular ornamental annuals.

Timely Tasks For Late May

Popcorn should be planted immediately in order to permit the ears to ripen fully on the stalks during the sunny, dry days of late August and early September.

Shade trees need an annual feeding of commercial fertilizer to keep them vigorously attractive. This task cannot be postponed longer, else there will be an excess of soft wood produced in late summer and winter-killing may result. Readers are invited to write the editor for a free copy of our tree feeding instructions. (Please enclose a 3-cent stamp with request.)

Sell roosters at once to avoid production of fertile eggs over summer. Remember—roosters are needed with laying hens only to render eggs fertile for hatching. Fertile eggs become unfit for food after a few hours in summer temperatures.

Dust cucumber plants with a mixture of one pounds of calcium arsenate in 15 pounds of fine gypsum to keep the striped beetle killed off. This pest carries wilt to cucumber plants at the same time it feeds on the leaves and its larvae gnaws the roots and stem.

Blight and hopperburn of potatoes cannot be cured; they must be prevented. Bordeaux mixture, applied uniformly over the foliage surface every week to 12 days, is the potato grower's safety insurance against these widely prevalent diseases.

Grass clippings, immature weeds and all similar green vegetative wastes should be saved and turned into valuable organic matter on a compost heap. The wise gardener never allows his soil to become shall-low and hard for lack of humus as long as he has waste vegetation and foresight to keep a compost heap handy.

Prepare soil at once for planting dahlia tubers about the last week in May or the first week of June. Well rotted and finely pulverized manure should be employed to render soils adequately mellow for this peer of autumn flowers. Too, now is a good time to write the editor to ask all the questions necessary to clear away dahlia perplexities.

Well rooted sweet potato plants should be set out whenever the soil is warm toward the end of May and all danger of frost is past.

Water lilies are easy to grow. Pools may range from a half of a wooden barrel sunken in the ground to expensive formal stone, concrete or tile structures. Roots are planted in small boxes of special loam. All related questions gladly answered.

It is not too late to sow seed of most fast-growing annual flowers. To beginners it is often amazing how much beauty can be obtained from a few cents invested in seeds of hardy annuals wisely grouped. Don't neglect to include some of the low border plants, such as alyssum and coleus, to lend neatness to the border.

TRUMAN SIGNS GREEK-TURKISH AID MEASURE

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Kansas City, May 22 (AP)—President Truman today signed the $400,000 Greek-Turkish aid bill setting in force a historic American foreign policy of bolstering weak countries against outside aggression as a "support" to the United Nations. He called it "an important step in the building of peace" and said it offered "proof" that the United States will make "a vigorous effort to help create conditions of peace."

"The conditions of peace," he said, "include the ability of nations to maintain order and independence and to support themselves economically."

New Departure

The measure, a far-reaching departure in international relations of this government, became law in a simple ceremony in a mid-western hotel with Mr. Truman's pledge it would not be used to benefit "any particular group or faction."

He announced that United States ambassadors in Greece and Turkey were being instructed to "enter into immediate negotiations" with the two governments for the expenditure of the funds, which he asked for March 12 to help halt the spread of Communism in the near and middle east.

He expects to announce soon the appointment of an administrator of the program.

Truman's Statement

In his brief statement, the President called the measure "proof that the United States earnestly desires peace and is willing to make a vigorous effort to help create conditions of peace."

Replying to the objections raised against it in Congressional debate that it would "by-pass" the United Nations, Mr. Truman declared it would help further U.N.'s aims, and added: "Our aid in this instance is evidence not only that we pledge our support to the United Nations but that we act to support it."

Of the other contentions that the money would be used to support so-called "reactionary" administrations, the President had this to say: "We intend to make sure that the aid we extend will benefit all the peoples of Greece and Turkey, not any particular group or faction."

Bi-Majorities

The President pointed to passage of the legislation "by overwhelming majorities in both Houses of Congress," and asserted this was proof "the United States earnestly desires peace and is willing to make a vigorous effort to help create conditions of peace."

He expressed appreciation to Republicans as well as Democratic leaders for "their splendid support in obtaining passage of this vital legislation."

These are the authorized increases, which had been previously granted to the New Haven railroad in a separate earlier proceeding:

One-way coach fares, boosted from 22 to 25 cents per mile.

One-way sleeping and parlor car fares, boosted from 3.3 to 3.5 cents per mile.

Round-trip rates in coaches, increased approximately 15 per cent.

Round-trip rates in Pullmans, increased approximately 4 per cent.

The minimum price of a single, one-way ticket, upped from 10 to 15 cents.

The increases apply only to interstate travel, but state regulatory bodies are expected to make their intrastate fares match the interstate level.

Ex-GIs Reunited

With War Brides

New York, May 22 (AP)—Former G.I.s raced down the Pennsylvania station platform today to speed reunions with their war brides and fiancees, part of a group of 32 flown from Vienna, Austria, who arrived from Washington by train.

The Pan-American World Airways plane, originally scheduled to land the brides and fiancees at LaGuardia Field, was forced to set down at Washington yesterday because of poor weather here.

Nineteen women, two men and four children were in the group that came here.

William Teaney, 26, former lieutenant of Phoenixville, Pa., was at the station to meet Marianna Mayer, 20. They met in Austria while he was stationed there with the 26th Infantry. Miss Mayer said they hoped to be married June 7.

JONES RENAMED

Harrisburg, May 22 (AP)—George J. Jones, Williamsport, was renamed to the State Athletic commission until June 18 at least. Gov. James H. Duff sent Jones' nomination for a two-year term dating from June 18, 1945, to the Senate yesterday and the selection was immediately approved with a provision that he will serve in the $5,000 post until his successor is appointed and qualified.

Unprecedented Mass Lynch Trial Of 28 White Men Ends In Blanket Acquittal

DEFENDANTS GO FREE IN DEATH OF WILLIE EARL

By ROMNEY WHEELER

Greenville, S. C., May 22 (AP)—Twenty-eight white men were acquitted at their mass murder trial of charges that they lynched a 23-year-old Negro.

The verdicts were returned last night in Greenville county's stifling courtroom after a nine-day trial unprecedented in southern history. The state had demanded conviction—but not death—against the alleged murderers of Willie Earle, who was taken from Pickens county jail before dawn February 17 and lynched in reprisal for the stabbing of a white taxi driver.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and local and state police moved quickly into the case and within 24 hours had incriminating statements from self-acknowledged member of the mob. Eventually, 26 defendants signed unsworn statements, admitting to police that they had helped take the Negro to an old slaughter pen where he was bludgeoned, slashed and shot to death.

"No Use Meddling"

A county grand jury indicted 31 men for murder, conspiracy to commit murder, and of being accessories both before and after the fact. All were brought to trial in Greenville criminal court. Three won directed verdicts of acquittal.

In closing the state's case, Prosecutor Sam Watt and Robert Ashmore appealed to the jury to act as the public conscience of South Carolina.

The jury, however, heeded the plea of Defense Counsel Thomas Wofford, who criticized northern "interference" and demanded acquittal to "show them it's no use meddling in Greenville county."

The defense offered no witness or witnesses or testimony and no defendant took the stand. Referring to the alleged stabbing, of which the Negro was accused, Defense Attorney John B. Culbertson had shouted: "Willie Earle is dead, and I wish more like him were dead."

No Thanks from Court

Circuit Judge J. Robert Martin, Jr., declined comment on the verdict. He withheld the customary thanks of the court when the jury ended the case.

"Gentlemen," he said, "you are free to go. The clerk has your checks and you may pick them up at your pleasure."

The jury had deliberated five hours and 15 minutes.

The last white man to die for an offense against a Negro in South Carolina was a plantation owner, sentenced in Newberry county by Judge John Belton O'Neal in 1848 for killing two slaves.

Frame Storm Shelter Death Trap For Boy

Shoemakersville, Pa., May 22 (AP)—Timbers of a frame building where Paul D. Kline, 13, and his brother had sought refuge during a strong wind storm yesterday fell on Paul and crushed him to death.

Mrs. Irvin Kline, mother of Paul and his companion, Daniel Kline, 10, said she saw from her farmhouse window the wind lift the building from its foundation and send the boys through the air. Paul landed about 10 feet from the structure and Daniel about 50, she said.

Dr. Nicholas J. Chett said Paul's face and the middle of his body

FINE MOTHER IN NUMBERS CASE

Pittsburgh, May 22 (AP)—Three persons, two of them women, were fined a total of $250 on charges of numbers writing by Judge John K. Kennedy yesterday in criminal court.

One of the women, a 37-year-old mother of two children, told the court she took up numbers writing because she had to support her youngsters and didn't want to become "a burden on the taxpayers."

In police court, Magistrate W. H. K. McDiarmid held seven persons for court action on charges of operating a lottery, the formal count for numbers writing.

At Homestead, Burgess John J. McClean, who is also Allegheny county clerk of courts, said seven Homestead addresses, furnished him by Artemas C. Leslie, district attorney, had been investigated and no evidence of gambling had been found.

The list was one of several which Leslie had said he would send municipal authorities to aid them in halting rackets. Leslie said he would prosecute authorities who failed to halt gambling. A similar list of 19 names, sent to Pittsburgh police a few days ago, resulted in 11 arrests on gambling counts.

WIVES COMING TO U. S.

Vienna, May 20 (Delayed) (AP)—Thirty-two wives and fiancées of American veterans, accompanied by ten children, were scheduled to leave Vienna by Pan-American Airlines Clipper today for New York in the first such group shipment from Austria.

Before the war, the U. S. Government estimated there were 80,000 kinds of insects in North America.

POISONED AIR COMPLICATING ATOM DEFENSE

By ELTON C. FAY

(AP Military Affairs Reporter)

Washington, May 22 (AP)—The deadly potentialities of a "radioactive cloud" weapon are complicating plans for hiding men and machines underground in event of atomic age warfare.

But the problem of sealing off subterranean sites against poisoned air is under study, according to an article in the current unofficial service publication, Armored Cavalry Journal.

The article was written before plane-maker Glenn L. Martin's disclosure last week of experiments by the army and navy to create radioactive clouds. These clouds, covering a mile-square area, could be formed by a burst of radioactive matter released from an airplane.

Martin's disclosure was made before a Congressional committee, and he declined to go into detail on the method.

Penetrates Defenses

It was recalled, however, that several possible methods for spreading radioactive death have been suggested unofficially, including the release of dust or oil spray impregnated with radioactivity.

The advantage of this method over ordinary contamination of objects, where the poison is transferred to the human by skin contact, is that inhalation of poisoned air presumably produces a much faster and more complete poisoning. And, because it is airborne, it seeps through the chinks of ordinary metal set up to protect against mere blast and heat.

The armed forces have been aware of the menace of radioactive air since last summer's Bikini atom bomb experiments. It was discovered there that even the use of a welder's torch or a grinding wheel would release into the air radioactivity which had adhered to solid objects such as warship fittings.

Russians Busy

The Journal in reviewing studies and programs abroad for underground sites mentioned that Great Britain and Sweden both are making such effort and then said:

"Another country, it is persistently rumored, has pressed prisoner-of-war labor into construction of the largest underground airfield in the world—located in a highly dominating and commanding area, which has great semiglobal and air-striking potential."

The Journal did not identify the country, but the only nation reported to be using prisoner-of-war labor in quantity at this time is Russia.

Bonneauville

Bonneauville—The banns of marriage were published Sunday in St. Joseph's church between Miss Helen Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, of Gettysburg, and Clarence Kuhn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kuhn, of Bonneauville.

Miss Anna Sheeringer, of St. Agnes hospital, Baltimore, spent several days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sheeringer.

A special meeting of the Catholic War Veterans Post was held Monday evening in St. Joseph's Hall, with Edward Smith, acting commander, presiding.

Miss Elizabeth Little, of Hanover, is spending some time among relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chrismar, Miss Jennie Chrismar, Mrs. Earl Orndorff, Mrs. Robert Clabaugh and Bernard Chrismar spent Tuesday evening in Baltimore.

Two Die In Crash On Lincoln Highway

York, Pa., May 22 (AP)—A two-car collision on the rain-swept Lincoln highway ten miles west of here last night killed two men and injured two others.

State Policemen G. J. Vanderslice and R. L. Baylor identified the dead as Elmer C. Wolf and Pharies Clabaugh, Jr., both 26, of Thomasville, R. I.

Lester Sinner, 25, Spring Grove R. 1, a third occupant of the car, is in critical condition in York hospital with a possible fracture of the skull. Raymond H. Stout, Jr., 24, of Easton, Pa., owner of the other car, was injured slightly, police said. His companion, Clayton Boisvert, 39, of Lowell, Mass., was uninjured.

It is practical to plant vegetables every week in the year except during July and August in Arizona's Salt River valley.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH

More Firmly In Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat? Just a tiny sprinkle of little FASTEETH will do the trick. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. Not gritty, gooky, pasty taste or feeling. Does not stain. Comes in a little order (denture breath). Chapter 2

"Okay," Rush said. "It sounds like a nice operation. It should be a pleasure to kick it over. Who is offering how much to get the job done?"

"I can only tell you half of that," said the older man. "Your employer must remain anonymous. As a matter of fact I haven't the faintest idea as to his identity myself."

As I told you I was brought into the affair by an attorney in the city in question who asked that I investigate you. Your exploits in Weston had come to his client's attention and seemed to indicate that you were the man for the job."

"I'm not sure I like that," said Rush. "But how much is he offering?"

"Ten thousand dollars plus unlimited expenses."

Rush lit a cigarette and blew smoke at the ceiling.

"That's a lot of money. Those unlimited expenses are liable to run high. It seems like a fairly sizeable wad for a citizen to blow on public spirit. Are you sure there isn't a gimmick in it somewhere?"

"Gimmick?" asked Leach.

"A catch. The people who will put up that kind of money just out of civic pride can be counted on the fingers of one hand. Your unknown client must have an angle. I'd like to know what it is."

"I was told you'd ask that question."

"Were you given an answer?"

"I was. My client had a son just past twenty-one but holding a responsible job. Rather large sums of money were available to him. Other people's money, I should say. He managed to lose considerable amounts of it and, I am told, owed even more. He was found dead in circumstances that suggested suicide. The police called it that and there the matter rests. My client doubts it a little since he is very wealthy and could have refunded the money had it been brought to his attention."

"Does he want me to dig the truth about that?"

Leach shook his head.

"No. He feels that the general evil is responsible rather than any individual and he wants the whole thing pulled out by the roots."

"A large order," said Rush. "A very large order. I wonder if he has any idea what it involves."

"I can imagine," he said. "There's one other thing. Am I to go it blind or will X give me some background information? I'd like to know who runs what and who works for who, also where do I get expense money? I expect to need a lot of it."

"A letter will be delivered to you in Forge City with a complete history of the setup there with names and spheres of influence. As to expenses five thousand dollars will be deposited to any name you wish at the First National Bank of Forge City. When you are through you may call on me for your fee."

"Satisfactory," said Rush. "Emphatically satisfactory. Just tell him to deposit it to the account of Rush Henry. I'm quite fond of my own name and it gives me one less thing to remember."

Leach led him to the door of the study and opened it. Down the hall at the outer door an argument was in progress. A voice raised clear and strong in the confines of the hall.

"I'm comin' in if I hafta blast my way in. He's in there. I saw him go in."

Rush recognized the voice. He turned to Leach.

"You'll have to excuse this. That is Wilmer. He's my man. I had him follow me in case your letter was a trap of some sort. I'm afraid he's gone a little overboard in his anxiety about me."

"Thinking nothing of it," said Leach. "I think it indicates a note of caution that I won't have to give you myself. You seem prepared to take care of yourself."

"Yes," said Rush. "I can take care of myself."

He wasn't thinking of himself, however, as he hurried down the hall toward Merwin. He was thinking of the innocent bystanders.

FEWER FARMS AND WORKERS; INCOME CLIMBS

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington (P) — You've heard this: Farm workers are fewer and farms are getting bigger and fewer. It's true. But why?

City life, city jobs and better pay have drawn farm workers. And, since machines do the work of many men, bigger and better farm machinery has meant less need for farm hands.

Thanks to the machines and better farming methods, bigger farms can be worked better than many small farms formerly could be with manpower.

Here's the story as told by figures from the Agriculture department.

Drop of 2,000,000

Where possible, the years used are 1910-14, the pre-World War I period, and 1946, the first year after World War II.

The average number of farm workers:

1910-14 — 12,052,000, when total U. S. population was 91,000,000.

1946 — 10,012,000, when total U. S. population was 140,000,000.

So the number of farm workers dropped more than 2,000,000 while the total U. S. population was increasing 49,000,000.

The average number of farms:

1910-14 — 6,400,000.

1946 — 5,900,000.

More Land Cultivated

That drop of 500,000 in the number of farms might make it seem less farmland was being worked. Not so.

Land under cultivation:

1910-14 — 310,566,000 acres.

1946 — 345,773,000 acres.

Thus while the number of individual farms dropped and total farming land increased, the size of farms increased.

Average size of farms:

1910-14 — 138 acres.

1945-1946 — 194 acres.

But what of the value of the crops farmers produced?

Cash receipts, or the money farmers got for their products:

1924 — $10,220,000,000.

1946 — $23,900,000,000.

Figures On Income

Of the $23,900,000,000 in cash receipts in 1946, about $900,000,000 came from government subsidies, or payments, of one kind or another.

So, exclusive of how the government helped out, farm cash receipts more than doubled between 1910-14 and 1946.

But that money was the pay farmers got for what they raised. How much did they have left after meeting expenses?

The average net income, after expenses, of farm operators:

1910-14 — $586.

1945-1946 — $2,134.

These are average figures. Big farmers netted far more than those average figures show, and small farmers netted much less.

PEANUT KING DEAD AT 69

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 22 (P) — Amedeo Obici, founder and president of the Planter Nut and Chocolate company, of Suffolk, Va., and known in the industry as the "Peanut King," is dead at 69.

Obici, who came to the United States at the age of 11, conducted a small fruit and peanut stand in Wilkes-Barre before establishing the Planter's company.

He entered the peanut producing field with his future brother-in-law, Mario Peruzzi, in 1906 and popularized the blanched or skinless peanut in preference to the small Spanish variety with the red skin.

Obici was a former owner of the Suffolk News-Herald and a stockholder and director of the Elliott hotel in Suffolk where he had resided on a 300-acre farm.

He died last night at Mercy hospital here where he had been a patient since March 26. He was stricken with a kidney ailment while in Florida.

Survivors include a brother, Frank, and two sisters, Mrs. Angelina Sangiuliano and Mrs. Elizabeth Peruzzi, all of Wilkes-Barre.

Religious Protests Force School Change

Pittsburgh, May 22 (P) — Protests on religious grounds have forced transfer of the Whitaker school graduation from the Methodist church to a classroom, according to Dr. J. S. Snoke, superintendent of county schools.

Dr. Snoke said the objections came from the Rev. Paul J. Odega of St. Rita's church.

Explained Father Odega, "For years I told the parents of Catholic children that they are not allowed to send them to baccalaureate exercises in a non-Catholic church. This year the parents approached me and I told them it was time to take action."

Whitaker school graduations have been held in the Methodist church since 1923. Dr. Snoke said 27 of the 31 graduates this spring are Catholic.

The plague since known as the "Black Death" spread across Europe in 1348.

The temple of Diana at Ephesus seated 27,000 persons.

OLEO ISSUE IS BACK IN SENATE

Harrisburg, May 22 (P) — The oleomargarine issue is back in the Senate for a decision but a vote is unlikely until next week.

A bill continuing regulation of the product was reported from committee in revised form but will require consideration for at least two days before a vote is possible. The Assembly quits for the week today until next Monday.

Democrats, at the same time, who favored repealing all margarine regulations, renewed opposition to the Republican-favored bill. Sen. John H. Dent, the Democratic floor leader, asserted:

"It continues the restrictions on oleomargarine and specifically on its free trade because it denies the right to sell the product in its colored state. This is the nature in which the product is consumed and that is the way it should be sold."

The Senate committee reduced from $5 to $2 the annual fee required from dealers. The bill was changed to reduce the size of type in which the word "oleomargarine" must be printed on the package. The present law requires larger type for that word than any other on the label.

They hastily took its mounting apart and found that the stamp, its fastening loosened by a spotlight's heat, had slid behind a wooden frame.

BRITISH PLAN DEVELOPMENT OF EAST AFRICA

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

British military authorities in London disclose that the projected withdrawal of England's main Mediterranean and Middle Eastern defenses to East Africa is to be accompanied by an economic, social and political development in Africa which will be "truly historic."

Hot on the heels of this momentous statement we see British, French and Belgian colonial administrators meeting in Paris to discuss a program for intensive development in southern, central and equatorial Africa. They tell us that this great project is to be started at once.

Vigorous Attention

All this has been got under way without blare of trumpets. Indeed it's only now we get a close-up preview of a vast enterprise that is calculated to strengthen a British empire which some gloomy prophets have said darkly was breaking up.

The term "breaking-up" isn't an apt one to use in connection with the changes in the British empire. It is undergoing a metamorphosis which thus far has resulted in dividing it into parts—the British Commonwealth of Nations (comprising sovereign states) and the empire (including the dependencies). These two divisions complement each other.

It is to some of the most important of her colonies that England now is turning vigorous attention. Judging from the London announcement. Within British East Africa, British West Africa and British South Africa are a large number of colonies, totaling hundreds of thousands of square miles and inhabited by many millions of Africans.

Long Range Plans

These possessions contain rich natural resources and there are great tracts which are prime for the growing of cotton, tobacco, rubber, peanuts, and many other products, as well as for cattle raising.

I understand that it is planned to grow an immense amount of peanuts in Kenya, British East Africa, which is particularly suitable for this crop that is so rich in oil.

Thus when England has weathered her present economic crisis, and has set the wheels to turning in her richest colonies, she should do well for herself. As Churchill says, she will continue to play a leading part in world affairs.

Champaign, Ill., May 22 (AP)—Seven soldiers were killed Tuesday night in the crash of an army B-25 in a farm field during a violent electrical storm, state police reported today.

The wreckage of the plane, strewn over a wide area about 16 miles north of Champaign, was found early today. State police said the craft was en route from Cheyenne,
Wyo., to the air base at Chanute
Field near Champaign.

It was last heard from at 10:47 p.m. Eastern Standard Time by radio contact as it passed Burling-

SENATE OKAYS
U. S. SCIENCE FOUNDATION

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington (AP)—The Senate has just approved setting up a National Science foundation.

This is its purpose: 1. To build up a big supply of trained scientists, particularly by helping educate young people with scientific brains.

2. To do basic research in many fields. For example: To find the cause and cure of cancer.

The foundation won't become a fact unless the House also approves.
It's expected to vote soon.

Decide Money Later

Money? That would be decided later. Some Senators talk of letting the foundation have $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 a year to spend.

Spend how? This way:

1. As loans or grants to colleges, universities or other organizations to start or carry on research work.

2. On scholarships for young men and women to continue their scientific training. They'd be chosen on ability.

Many scientists, educators and others have urged Congress to set up this foundation. It would work this way:

1. There'd be a top governing board, appointed by the President, of outstanding people in science.

medicine, engineering, and so on.
2. From those 24 nine would be chosen as an executive committee to do most of the board's work, leaving the major decisions to the board.

3. There'd be a director working full time. The board and executive committee members would only meet several times a year.

4. There'd be special divisions, headed by experts, in such fields as cancer, heart disease, biology, national defense, and so on.

No Dictation

The division experts, knowing their special fields, would know what kind of research work was needed most.

They'd make recommendations to the executive committee and the board for final decisions.

Through exchange of information on work being done, the foundation could save scientists from duplicating one another's work.

But the foundation couldn't dictate to scientists what work they should do.

from the heart to your body to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a tendency to catch colds, lack of vibrant energy.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof, found SSS Tonic to be among the most effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent active ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organic and too weak. This tonic tones the stomach and will have little cause to set balky with gas, bloated and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, vitalizing SSS Tonic. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. Help build a healthy complexion in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Strong Health.

Assistant Fire chief Nick Radio of McKees Rocks said:

"Evidently there was a shortage of water in the boiler."

Explosion of the boiler blew up a brick furnace to which it was attached.

Russell Mastrotta, an employee who had a narrow escape, described the blast. It occurred shortly after he arrived for work with his father, and while he was changing to work clothes in a shack.

"I had my shoes off," he said.

"Then there was a terrible noise. I opened the door of the shanty and saw bricks flying and steam everywhere. When the boiler blew up, it blew all the bricks around the boiler and also blew the furnace apart."

COMPLAINTS MOUNTING ON AUTO RACKET

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, (P)—Complaints are piling up against a racket being worked by some new and second-hand car dealers. New car buyers are the victims, because new cars are scarce.

The racket outlined here doesn't mean all new or second-hand dealers are taking part in it. But some seem to be doing so.

It goes like this: 1. A very low trade-in allowance on your old car; 2. Or, with a new car, you must buy costly but unwanted accessories; 3. Or, pay a second-hand dealer far above new car price for a practically new car.

Long Delay, High Cost

To show what's meant, here's a paragraph from a front page story in the Philadelphia Inquirer Sunday:

"Forced to wait 12 to 16 months for new car deliveries, and in some cases victimized on trade-in prices or accessory overloading, businessmen and others who needed automobiles have been driven to the 'curb market' where the cost of 1947 cars ranges from $500 to $1,000 above list prices."

Checking on the problem, the American Automobile Association (AAA) has gathered information from a number of its members around the country. (The AAA is a federation of about 700 motor clubs working for the interest of motorists.)

Here's an example of what the AAA found: A new car buyer ordered accessories costing $36. He got the car with $260 in accessories. It was take the all, or no car at all.

Way For Tricky Dealer

With all government ceilings on cars wiped out, this is the only restraint on a new car dealer, besides his conscience: He must sell a new car at the price listed by the manufacturer, or lose his right to handle that make of car. A tricky dealer can still sell at list price, but add the accessories to boost his profit. There's no restraint on a used car dealer. He can charge whatever he can get.

This writer asked the National Automobile Dealers Association (NADA) about all this. Its members are new car, not used car, dealers. This was the answer:

"It depends on what you call accessories. A large part of them are put on at the factory. Some accessories possibly are added by the dealers. We have heard this is being done."

New Black Market

"It's a new type of black market. But the NADA has a policy that no customer has to take accessories he doesn't want."

He was asked: "But if a customer doesn't want the accessories, he can't get the car, can he, since other customers will gobble it up?"

The answer: "That's the hell of it. The limit on this sort of thing will be reached only when you can walk in and buy a new car, that is, when new cars are plentiful."

Then this writer called the automobile manufacturers association in Detroit and asked if manufacturers were putting the accessories on the cars. The answer: "It's fair to say that some are, some aren't. It's very difficult to say."

ACTIVE THIEVES

Salt Lake City (P)—Fairmont park caretaker Eddie Swift reported the theft of lawn sod from an area 15 by 15 feet. Evidence indicated, he said, someone backed a truck to the area, dug up the sod and hauled it away.

"I guess," commented City Parks Commissioner Fred Tedesco, "we'll have to put extra guards on the city swimming pools to keep 'em from stealing the water."

IS MEDICINE DESTROYING ITSELF?

★ Things dramatic capture the imagination, sometimes to the point of distorting the perspective. This is as true in medicine as in other fields. The sensational results with sulfa drugs and penicillin are examples.

Less dramatic, but responsible for saving uncounted lives, are the broader public health measures. Sewage disposal; swamp clearance; water, milk, and food inspection are but a few of these triumphs.

The physician and the pharmacist have always been leaders in the field of preventive medicine. This fact led James Brice to observe, "Medicine is the only profession that labors incessantly to destroy the reason for its own existence."

The fight, however, is far from won. Diagnosis and treatment of disease are still the primary functions of the physician. The accurate filling of prescriptions is our responsibility as pharmacists.

New Oxford

New Oxford.—The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Regis Gehart has been named Mary Suzanne. The baby is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Aumen, Sr.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dittmer has been named Sandra Diane.

Carole Marie, infant daughter of Charles Hensel, Jr., whose wife died at St. Louis, Mo., a few days after the baby's birth, was christened at St. Mary's Catholic church several days after she was brought here to spend some time at the home of her paternal grandparents. Her father has been spending some days in St. Louis to attend to business before returning to the home of his parents to resume his residence.

Earl W. Rohrbaugh, proprietor of the Bar 30 Ranch, a restaurant east of town, who recently had an outdoor platform erected at his place of business to accommodate the trade, has now had this platform furnished with new metal furniture. A new lighting system has also been installed there.

George W. Dunstan, who purchased the old Hemler farm southwest of town several months ago, is now having the interior of the farmhouse remodeled. The place was formerly occupied by the Bernard Myers family.

Among recent graduates from the University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing, Philadelphia, was Miss Anna Catherine Aiwine, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy E. Aiwine, near town. Mr. and Mrs. Aiwine with another daughter, Miss Virginia Aiwine, also a nurse, attended the exercises.

Mrs. Mildred Rogers Dunstan, near town, a former opera star, accompanied a pupil, Miss Peggy Ann Moul, East Berlin, on Sunday when she sang, several selections at the wedding of Miss Irma L. Barthelme, East Berlin R. 1 and Jack R. Clausen, Wellsville, at the Bermudian Lutheran church. Mrs. Dunstan also played the wedding marches for the ceremony.

The Always Faithful class of the First Lutheran Church school conducted a meeting during the week at the home of Mrs. R. Stoner Welty. Members of this class had charge of a sale of chicken soup and baked goods at the church property on Saturday afternoon.

The customary Memorial Day observance is being prepared for Friday May 30, in charge of the local posts of Veterans of Foreign Wars and Sons of Union Veterans. The usual parade throughout the town will take place, beginning at 6 p. m. Graves in the Union and Catholic cemeteries will be decorated with flags and flowers. Norman Tratner, York, a veteran of World War I, will be the orator of the day at the annual services in the Union cemetery. All school, civic and business organizations of the vicinity are invited to participate in the parade. After the retreat, a band concert will be presented Memorial Day evening at the square.

Among recent guests at the home of Mrs. Edith Weaver were her son-in-law and daughter, Sgt. and Mrs. Richard Newhard, New Cumberland, and another daughter, Mrs. George Rudisill, Carlisle.

The local Lions club conducted a regular meeting during the past week at the Cross Keys Diner east

Duff 'Sympathetic' On Race Equality

Harrisburg, May 22 (P)—A delegation which conferred with Governor James H. Duff, described the executive as "very sympathetic" toward legislation prohibiting discrimination in employment because of race, color or creed.

Frank S. Loescher, Philadelphia, of the Council for Equal Job Opportunity, told reporters after the conference yesterday afternoon: "The governor was extremely forthright and there was no equivocation whatsoever on the question. And we told him so and he replied 'That is the way I feel; I think this is in the public interest.'

Loescher said no particular bill was mentioned at the conference but the group favors passage of measures pending in House and Senate committees setting up a five-member commission to investigate complaints of discrimination.
